GIANT OFFENSIVE AIMED AT AXIS AIRFIELDS

Over 1,000 U. S. Warplanes Smash Deep into Reich

Fortresses and Liberators From Britain Pound German Airbases at Nancy, Metz and Dijon in an All-Out Effort to Humble Hitler's Forces Ahead of Invasion

INDUSTRIAL MUNICH AND KARLSRUHE IN FLAMES

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
London, April 25.—(P)—Well over 1,000 American bombers and fighters bombarded three German airfields in France today, the 11th consecutive day of the war's greatest aerial offensive. The German radio said other Allied raiders had penetrated into the southern sector of the Reich.

A preliminary announcement of daylight activity, which appeared again to be on a gigantic scale, said Fortresses and Liberators from Britain smashed at German airdromes at Nancy, Metz and Dijon in the continuing all-out effort to humble Hitler's air forces ahead of the western invasion.

The daylight attacks followed attacks last night by probably 1,000 planes of the RAF, which blasted industrial Munich and Karlsruhe.

While American Liberators and Fortresses were returning from attacks on air fields in eastern France, another formation of Eighth Air Force Liberators smashed at military installations in the Pas-De-Calais area under a Mustang escort.

Lightning fighter-bombers also made a forenoon attack on an airfield in northern France, with other P-38s escorting them.

In a reconnaissance report on the Munich raid the Air Ministry said whole blocks of buildings were left ablaze in the city Hitler converted from a Nazi shrine to an aircraft center and the heart of an important railway system. Smoke rose four miles as scattered fires merged into one glowing core.

American airmen back from Metz said at least 40 planes, mostly fighters, parked on the ground there were plastered with bombs and there was no fighter opposition. The raiders of Nancy also caught German aircraft parked on the ground. Airmen said formations split at each field, one force bombing landing areas while the others smashed hangars and other buildings.

Crewmen generally reported no fighter opposition, moderate flak, weather spotty on the way but clear over the targets and good bombing results.

While the heavies and their escort thundered into eastern France, American Marauders and Havocs with British Boston's attacked military objectives in northern France which have been pounded repeatedly in recent days by every type of daylight raider based in Britain.

Waves of planes of all types drove forward the campaign that has poured 40,000 to 50,000 tons of explosives on Hitler's war machine since mid-April, and shortly before noon the German radio reported strong bomber formations over the southern, western, and southwestern portions of the Reich.

Waves of British planes were lost last night, when the main blows aimed at factories and communications in Karlsruhe and Munich. Mosquito planes hit Dusseldorf and other raiders pounded the rail depot at Chamby 20 miles north of Paris.

Stalemate On Russian Front Still Unbroken

By HENRY CASSIDY

Moscow, April 25.—(P)—The Red army has smashed a German attack west of Dniepr, 85 miles northeast of the big communications center of Lwow, which at first succeeded in driving the Russians out of two localities, a Soviet communiqué said today.

More than 400 Nazis were slain in the Russian counterblow which dislodged the enemy from both places and "restored the situation," the bulletin declared.

In the Carpathian foothills more than 100 miles to the southwest, more than 200 Germans were officially reported killed after they crossed a stream southwest of Sivaslawow by night and were routed by Soviet troops in the morning.

Except for these actions, however, a stalemate continued along the land front as the Red force tightened the blockade of Sevastopol, blasting ships which attempted to carry Axis troops out of the encircled Black Sea base.

TWIN-ENGINE BOMBER FALLS IN MONTREAL

Nine Killed, Several Injured and Dozen Dwellings Are Wrecked and Left In Flames

SOLDIERS GUARD AREA

Montreal, April 25.—(P)—The crash of a twin-engine bomber in Montreal's downtown commercial district today killed nine persons, injured others and left a dozen dwellings wrecked and flaming.

Some eyewitnesses said the bomber exploded in air while others said it blew up after striking the buildings, sending fragments 50 feet into the air. Parts of the wings and engines settled over sections of a block bounded by Colborne, Ottawa, Shannon and Smith streets—not far from the Canadian National Railway's old Bonaventure station.

The plane apparently struck coming in over Shannon street, wrecking two tenement houses. Its fuselage came to rest in a mass of wreckage in which bodies could be seen.

One eyewitness said a member of the crew who parachuted was badly injured and taken to a hospital.

Flames from the exploded bomber set afire a half dozen buildings. One woman removed from a structure by firemen screamed that her three children were still inside.

Two hundred soldiers were brought into the area as firemen brought the flames under control.

Attempt To Halt Sedition Trial Is Foiled

Washington, April 25.—(P)—Justice Edward C. Eicher brushed aside today another attempt to halt the trial of 28 men and two women accused of conspiring to disaffect the U. S. armed forces.

Eicher opened today's session in federal district court by announcing that he had overruled a motion in behalf of Gerald E. Winrod of Wichita, Kas., asking postponement of the trial. The motion, which also sought a separate trial for Winrod, contended that a fair trial could not be had here.

The justice made no comment in overruling the motion.

One by one, other defense attorneys made similar motions, and all were overruled.

Efforts to obtain a jury dragged on.

Nine members of the panel were disqualified today because they said they had fixed opinions about the case.

Eicher has yet to rule on a motion to subpoena Henry Ford and Charles A. Lindbergh.

SCHUYLKILL RIVER IS NEARING ITS CREST

Philadelphia, April 25.—(P)—The rain-swollen Schuylkill river, almost 11 feet above normal, reached into the lower levels of the Manunk section of Philadelphia today halting Philadelphia Transit Company bus service and making it necessary to close several streets.

The U. S. Weather Bureau issued warnings that the river will probably overflow its banks along the east and west river drives in Fairmount Park today when it reaches a crest of 11 feet above normal sometime around 8 a. m.

Three landing points and flew back to advanced headquarters with eye-witness accounts from all the Associated Press writers.

Fred Hampson covered the invasion from the bridge of an amphibious attack force flagship. Clements watched things from the air and from a U. S. Fifth Airforce base, then flew back to headquarters.

Charles H. McMurtry, Associated Press Bureau chief at Honolulu came to Australia to confer with C. Yates McDaniel, Australian chief of bureau, and together they worked night and day to keep copy flowing through to official censors and to write additional stories.

Al Hopkins and possibly William L. Worden were aboard big aircraft carriers which provided the air cover for the invasion.

Robert Enson, who covered all

Misty Weather and Apathy of Voters Result In Unusually Light Turnout At the Polls

Philadelphia, April 25.—(P)—Election boards throughout Pennsylvania had little difficulty keeping up with their work today in the most listless primary election in recent years.

Reports from across the state indicated only a fraction of the 4,250,000 Republicans and Democrats registered were taking the trouble to cast ballots for delegates to the national party conventions and for standard bearers at the November election.

After several days of rain in some sections, the sky cleared, but it failed to draw the interest of the average city voter, while many rural voters who otherwise might have visited their polling places went into their fields instead to take advantage of the good planting weather.

Democratic and Republican organizations began drives to get out the vote immediately after the polls opened at 7 a. m. and workers were instructed to stay on the job until 8 p. m., when the polls close.

Unfavorable weather, interrupting spring planting on the farms, was expected to increase the rural vote.

An organized effort to secure write-in votes for Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York for the Republican presidential nomination was reported under way.

Governor Edward Martin had said there was more sentiment in the state for Dewey than for any other discussed potential nominee. There is sentiment, also, for Governor John W. Bricker, of Ohio, General Douglas MacArthur, and Lt. Commander Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, Martin said.

Dewey reportedly had the favor of the Republican state organization.

RECORD LOW TURN OUT IS ANTICIPATED HERE

Reports reaching the Times-Mirror early this afternoon seemed to justify the prediction that today's turnout at the polls in the borough and county may reach a new record for spring primary.

Workers for both major parties found it difficult to induce voters to go to the polls and cast ballots. Threatening skies combined with complete absence of contests to encourage the rank and file of voters to remain at home.

Because of the complete lack of interest both locally and throughout the state the Times-Mirror will break a long-standing precedent by remaining closed this evening.

None of the discussed possible GOP nominees had filed.

President Roosevelt was unopposed in the Democratic primary. His name was entered by the Democratic state committee.

The Republicans—with 2,454,290 registered and eligible to vote—are electing 70 uninstructed delegates to the national convention and the Democrats, all pledged to President Roosevelt.

Party leaders conceded that interest in the vote was light because of the lack of factional contests.

A total of 186 members of the state legislature sought re-election, 20 of them senators and 166 representatives.

All but two of the Pennsylvania representatives in congress also were candidates for another term. Nineteen of them are Republicans and 12 are Democrats.

Leaders of both parties, anxious to avoid damaging primary battles during election year, agreed several months ago on organization states.

2,000 Children Pay Tribute to Late Cardinal

Boston, April 25.—(P)—More than 200 of the children he loved paid their final tribute today to William Cardinal O'Connell as his body reposed in state at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross.

At a special solemn high mass of requiem, just for the children, little tots and teen age boys and girls, chosen representatives of 25 parishes, schools and institutions, sent up their prayers for the leader they loved so well.

There were childish sobs heard through the spacious edifice as Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward G. Murray, rector of St. John's Seminary, celebrant of the mass, intoned the prayers.

Many of the children had sung in the sanctuary choir.

Throughout the service, youthful eyes turned toward the bier in front of the altar wherein rested the body of the man who rose from the humble surroundings of a mill hand's home to become a prince of the Catholic church.

Public Debt Limit Raise Is Opposed

Washington, April 25.—(P)—Republican opposition developed in the house today against an administration bill to raise the public debt limit from $210,000,000 to $260,000,000.

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) Republican leader of the ways and means committee, said "we're going to insist that the new limit be set considerably lower than $26,000,000; probably $240,000,000 would be enough."

President Roosevelt, in his budget message to congress early in the year, estimated the public debt would reach $258,000,000 by June 30, 1945.

Since July 1, 1940 Congress has authorized expenditures aggregating $227,000,000 for war activities, much of which has not yet been used.

Remarkable photo above shows a Jap soldier crouched in an American foxhole on Bougainville Island, where he dodged Yank bullets and grenades—but not for long. Enemy soldier hid himself in the foxhole during an unsuccessful attempt by Japs to seize part of beachhead held by U. S. forces.

Wild Demonstration Is Given To No. 1 Hero in Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, April 25.—(P)—Shawano street and "Mom" Kelly took "Commando" Kelly to their hearts today.

Tech. Sgt. Charles Edward Kelly, back on furlough from his exploits in the Italian campaign which won him the Congressional Medal of Honor, rested in the comforts of home after a wild demonstration of greeting that lasted late into the night.

The slight, shy, ruddy-faced hero, credited with eliminating 40 Nazis in one of this war's most sensational actions, dodged friends and admirers "just to catch up on some sleep and see my mom."

Police guarded the entrance to his unpretentious home in Pittsburgh's "Dutchtown" section while he did so.

Mayor Cornelius Scully met the fighting Irishman at his home and offered him and his family an expensive suite in a downtown hotel, but the "commando" replied, very courteously:

"This is good enough for mom, and it's good enough for me."

Enroute from the airport, the Kelly party wended through downtown Pittsburgh and thousands more cheered the young infantryman. When he reached home, hundreds of neighbors blocked the narrow flag-festooned (Turn to Page Nine)

Sweden's Answer Not Satisfactory

Washington, April 25.—(P)—Secretary of State Hull said today that Sweden's reply to an Allied request to stop sending ball-bearings to Germany was not satisfactory.

Naturally this government is very much dissatisfied, Hull told his press conference, because it attaches great importance to the question of supplies for Nazi Germany.

Sweden is reported to have told both Britain and the United States that it cannot break its commitments to Germany to send ball-bearings, which replace those destroyed by Allied air raids.

Text of the notes have not been made public, but it is understood that Sweden's refusal was polite though firm.

German Bombers Strike at Naples

Allied Headquarters, Naples, April 25.—(P)—German bombers struck sharply at Naples last night in the wake of a great coordinated attack by Allied aircraft against Nazi communications and aircraft plants in the Balkans and northern Italy.

Unofficial estimates placed the size of the Nazi formation which raided Naples at 30 to 40 planes. The attack, although sharp, was not particularly damaging. One of the raiders was shot down by Beaufighters.

The Allies flew 2,000 sorties yesterday, destroying 29 enemy planes for a loss of 14 in operations that included heavy bomber assaults on the Bucharest and Ploesti rail yards in Romania and on an aircraft factory at Belgrade.

Hitler Deputy Moves Swiftly Against Denmark Saboteurs

By ROBERT N. STURDEVANT
Stockholm, April 25.—(P)—Hitler's special deputy and minister to Denmark, Werner Best, declared today that the Germans were moving swiftly against Dutch saboteurs and underground elements affecting German interests.

Denmark was virtually isolated from Sweden and Best's statement before Danish press chiefs was the first tangible evidence of the reason. The country was cut off late yesterday afternoon.

The belief was prevalent in Stockholm that Denmark was

RESISTANCE OF JAPANESE DISORGANIZED

Airfields in 350-Square-Mile Area of New Guinea Hemmed in By Allied Forces

AITAPE READY FOR USE

By C. YATES McDANIEL
MacArthur's Advanced Headquarters, New Guinea, April 25.—(P)—American and Dutch invaders, slowed more by mud and mountain than by disorganized Japanese resistance, closed from two sides today on three airfields in a 350 square-mile area of Dutch New Guinea around captured Hollandia.

A fourth airfield, seized by another invasion force against sniper opposition 150 miles to the southeast near Aitape, was pressed into service less than 48 hours after its capture. Fighters and troop transport planes landed there yesterday.

Thousands of invading troops, the bulk of them Americans, were landed at three beachheads Saturday, protected by the guns and dive bombers of a naval armada which Adm. Chester W. Nimitz credits with wiping out 101 Japanese planes, all but 13 on the ground.

Reports today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur and advances from the field by Associated Press war correspondents told of a steamroller, impeded largely by the terrain, overrunning territory within bombing range of the Philippines.

Nowhere in the Hollandia area, less than 1200 miles from Mindanao, was there any word of organized fighting by the 14,000 Japanese estimated to comprise the defending force.

On the west flank, American soldiers, last reported within five miles of the main Hollandia airfield, told P. Correspondent Murlin Spencer that some Japanese "didn't even have guns."

This invading force, aimed at Tanahmerah bay, had moved six miles southeast by Sunday afternoon.

Humboldt Bay forces, in addition to occupying Hollandia village, took the village of Pim four miles to the south, within eight miles of the Tami airfield in the Lake Sentani area. The main Hollandia field is 17 miles west, the Cyclops field 11 miles west and slightly north.

To the northwest of Hollandia, Japanese air bases at Geelvink Bay, from which planes could be sent against the invaders, apparently have been reinforced. Headquarters said today that Liberators had to fight off 30 interceptors, shooting down from 14 to 17, while dropping 41 tons of explosives on airbases there. The bombers had met no enemy air opposition in recent raids on that sector.

Everywhere over the 150-mile invasion front between Aitape and Hollandia, the evidence of enemy surprise was noted.

BULLETINS

Washington, April 25.—(P)—Creation of a single department of the armed forces to replace the present departments of war and navy after the present war was recommended to congress today by Secretary of War Stimson.

The nation's iron and steel producers, big and small, declared today they are unable to absorb any wage increases. They pronounced demands by the CIO United Steel Workers unwarranted.

Washington, April 25.—(P)—Attacks on the administration's world bank idea came from two directions in the house today.

Boston, April 25.—(P)—The Unitarian War Service Council has sent out a call to Unitarian churches all over the country for a service of consecration on D-Day to "unite us in our dedication to the cause of world justice and lasting peace at the very time when such renewed dedication is most significant."

Crash Sends Two Persons To the Hospital

Clifton Meade, of Union City, is in Corry Hospital in a serious condition with the extent of his injuries still to be determined, while his wife is suffering from several lacerations of the head and other injuries as the result of a motorcycle crash which occurred late Sunday evening near Spring Creek.

The extent of the injuries sustained by Meade is not yet known but the man was reported still unconscious at the hospital where it was said a complete examination had not yet been found possible.

According to the State Police report on the accident, Mr. and Mrs. Meade were returning to Union City from Youngsville when something went wrong with the headlight of their motorcycle and the vehicle ran off the highway, crashing into the steep embankment at a point about a mile east of Spring Creek. The accident occurred shortly after 11 o'clock Sunday night.

She stated three conditions are necessary for stability during childhood: Occupation, in-

Scout Dispatch Bearers To Be Out Saturday

Boy Scout Dispatch Bearers will be on the job again Saturday morning to distribute the semi-monthly allotment of posters from the Office of War Information to the stores in Warren borough. There are two different kinds of posters.

The copy of the first poster reads "Careless Talk—Got These First" Now that we are attacking, we must be doubly sure that careless talk does not give away our battle plans. Remember that Axis agents piece together little scraps of conversation to learn big military secrets. When that happens, our battle casualties will be greater. The new poster in this series, a dramatic full-colored oil painting by the famous magazine illustrator, Ray Prohaska, is a sobering reminder that careless talk that forewarns the enemy does cost extra lives.

The latest poster in the ever-important "Security of War Information" series will be distributed, for the Security Committee, by the Office of War Information Boy Scouts dispatch bearers on Saturday, April 29, to all retail stores who patriotically cooperate with official government information programs.

Also to be distributed Saturday, April 29th, to retail stores by the Boy Scouts is the new poster recruiting women for the War Relocation Authority. The poster illustrates depicts a member of the WAC, WAVES, MARINES, and SPARS and reads: "For your country's sake today—For your own sake tomorrow."

The Scouts who are to distribute the posters on Saturday morning are as follows: Joseph Waller, and Raymond Larson, Troop No. 4; Randall White, William Fuelhart, John Knapp, John Robertson and Thomas Hampson of Explorer Troop No. 4.

Civilians To Replace Soldiers Need Now At Camp Reynolds

"We must have, as soon as we can get them, at least 200 qualified men and women," stated Lt. James Walker, civilian personnel recruiter from Camp Reynolds, in an interview this morning. Continuing, Lt. Walker explained: "I have a brief announcement to make for the Army. This message is addressed to every man and woman who has a brother, son, sweetheart, or relative in uniform. It is addressed to every citizen who wants to do his utmost to speed the day when our returning soldiers, sailors and marines can march victoriously down the Fifth Avenue and main streets of united America. In other words, this message is addressed to all of you!"

"The Army needs all the men and women it can get in uniform. It is because of family, age, or physical reasons you can't shoulder a gun, at least you can free a qualified soldier to do the job that needs to be done overseas. We're asking every man and woman who possibly can to take the place of a soldier tied down by housekeeping duties in our Army camps. Here's how you can serve your family and your country:

"Camp Reynolds at Greenville urgently needs men and women to take the place of soldiers in offices, warehouses, and repair shops. The call is really urgent. We can use men and women clerks, auto mechanics, typists, truck drivers, warehouse shippers and laboratory technicians. We need cooks and bakers and small arms repairmen. We need you to do an important job at a fair day's pay. There's a job for you at Camp Reynolds where you can directly serve your country."

"These are civil service jobs—paying civil service wages and entitling you to sick and annual leave with pay, as well as retirement benefits. Salaries, including overtime pay, average about $1700 a year, while skilled jobs and foremen are paid as much as $105 an hour. Civilian employees at the Army camp are entitled to live in the Shenango Housing Project across the road from Camp Reynolds.

"Apartments and dormitory rooms are open to you at unusually low rental—as little as $10.00 a month for a five-room apartment, based on the size of your family and your earnings. Apartments and rooms are furnished with new.

Her daughter, Anne, accompanied her mother to camp and was so much impressed with Girl Scout ways that she insisted that many of the camp customs be adopted by their family. Now, with uniform and pin, Anne is looking forward to her first season as a real camper.

LETTERS FROM THE HOME FRONT

There can't be many Americans who don't sooner or later write a letter to a soldier or sailor. The best of such letters tell of what is going on at home. The serviceman wants to know all about his relatives, friends and neighbors. He would like to know that they are back of him, thinking of him, doing what they can to help him and not grousing about their own little inconveniences. He wants to feel part of a solid front—fighting front and home front rolled into one.

The Treasury Department suggests that the serviceman be told of the success of the War Bond drives—not the national figures, which he may read about, anyhow, but how they went in the home town. If the town passed its quota he will be proud. He'll know then that the home folks are backing him up with something besides kind words. It's true that they are just lending their money, whereas he is investing his time and risking his skin. But he can be made to understand that they are doing what they can.

Letters to the fighting men might also tell how the Red Cross campaign is going, how much is going into the local blood bank to go as plasma to the front, what is being done to find jobs for discharged soldiers, and so on.

If we give this news to the service people we will want to make it good news. Our war activities will be carried on in front of the invisible soldier and sailor audience. And this very fact ought to stimulate us to a more energetic and unselfish war effort.

DECISION OF DESPERATION

Finland's action in rejecting Moscow's peace terms on the eve of the great invasion and, according to informed sources in Stockholm, gambling that Hitler will achieve a stalemate in the war, won't of course weaken our confidence in Allied success but it's a sharp reminder that Germany still possesses great strength and that a terrible conflict is before us.

Berlin newspapers are saying that "the greatest battle in the history of the world will take place along the Atlantic," and certainly that may prove to be true. Anyway, the Nazis are standing at alert and we should be foolish not to accept their statement that they "are ready for a hard fight."

Finland's ill-advised move, made in the face of strong possibilities that the United States would sever relations, probably represents a decision of desperation.

The Finnish decision admittedly was a difficult one to make especially in view of the country's friendship with America, and there is the fair reason to doubt whether it represents the majority of Finns. Perhaps there still is a chance that Helsinki may find its reason and make terms with Moscow.

ONE WAY TO HELP

Most of us know about the paper shortage, and are cooperating in the salvage campaign. The shortage isn't licked yet, but here is a remarkably easy thing that every householder can do to relieve it:

Take home one less average-size paper bag from the grocery whenever you go marketing. It doesn't seem like much. But if each one of America's estimated 34,845,532 families used one less bag every day, the daily saving would amount to 1634 tons—enough paper to make rings for 272,301, 500-pound bombs; or containers for 1,815,385 75-mm. shells; or blueprint paper for 65 battleships.

How to do it? Have your grocer put more items in one big bag; bring bags with you to the store and use them again; carry packaged merchandise unwrapped; use a string or other non-paper shopping bag. It WILL help.

There's more than one way to help with the war effort and a seemingly very minor one in which all may participate would be a generous response to the call of the Red Cross camp and hospital committee for unused unstrung instruments to be reconditioned and sent to convalescents at the Army hospital in Butler.

Floods are causing damage, terror and rendering thousands homeless in western states. Warren and this section has much to be thankful for—in that high water has failed to reach threatening level so far this spring.

Head and Shoulders Above the Crowd

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — As members of Congress flocked back to the capital after their Easter vacation the bets were about even that Congress, as a body, has had its last chance at campaigning until at least just before the November elections.

The reason: The likely-to-be prolonged scraps that are already on the calendar; and the prospective invasion, after which Congress may not be able to recess for many months.

Thirty-four senators and 435 congressmen have to face their makers between now and November. Primaries will be held in 32 states and run-off primaries in six between now and the first of August. The last six or all southern states where the run-offs often are far more important than the general elections.

Unless the invasion is postponed until after that, some observers on the Hill predict that Congress, as a body, won't get a chance to do any campaigning. Individual members will slip out for short hustings, it's true, especially those with a scrap on their hands, but that's not like having months for handshaking, speech-making, and night's of strategic maneuvering in smoke-filled back rooms.

Ever since, as a boy, I saw capable, blind ex-Sen. Thomas P. Gore go down to defeat in Oklahoma, I've realized that what most members of Congress need to be worried about just before election is have they stayed away too long?

In the coming elections this is a more important question than ever before. Congress has had very few short and no long vacations in the last five years. Members of Congress have had to keep up their contacts by an occasional howdy-do, mail, pieces for the papers, and transcribed radio addresses—pretty poor substitutes for the work that opponents can do by being constantly on the ground.

Another factor is the great population shifts which have made many states and hundreds of districts uncertain.

A third is the "restlessness of the voters," a phrase difficult to define. It's a change in temper of the voters, which old political war horses can sense blindfolded.

The desire to get back home for a little campaigning may speed pending legislation. There isn't much dilly-dallying here when an election is in the offing back home.

Grow Greens and Eat Them For Nutritious Diet

If you don't like spinach, there are many other green, leafy vegetables which you can grow in your Victory garden. But if none in the list that follows is to your liking, then something should be done about it.

Green, leafy, red and yellow vegetables are the vitamin-rich foods so essential to nutrition. They are rich especially in Vitamin A. At least one should be served on your table every day, and those who do not like them should eat them in spite of that, say the nutritionists.

Some green leafy vegetables can be served raw in salads, others are cooked, and among these are the greens so highly esteemed as spring tonics by our grandmothers, who did not know about vitamins, but did know that greens were healthful.

In 25 days from seed after planting you can be harvesting Tendergreen, a variety of mustard, which produces large green leaves which, like Swiss chard, can be cut from the plant without disturbing the root, to be followed immediately by another crop.

There are several varieties of mustard, maturing in 30 to 40 days, which are popular for greens. They have a pungent flavor, which is especially popular in the southern states, where greens have been a dietary standby for generations. Most of the mustards will keep bearing until frost.

Spinach takes longer to mature—40 to 50 days—and does not like hot weather. It is harvested by pulling up the plant by the roots, so that one crop is all it yields. Sow just as soon as the ground can be worked, in rows a foot apart, and thin out to six inches between the plants. A crop for fall may be sown in July, and will find the cool autumn weather to its liking.

Swiss chard is a species of beet which produces an insignificant root, but luxuriant broad leaves, which have a distinctive flavor which many like better than other greens. Chard may be cut off at the ground, and the roots will send up a new crop of leaves several times during the summer. It is highly esteemed for young children during the hot weather when spinach is difficult to grow.

New Zealand spinach is not a spinach, but a trifoliate plant which botanists call tetragonia expansa. It should not be sown until the ground is fairly warm, and then it should be given plenty of room, 2 to 3 feet between plants. In the northern states it grows to remarkable size, so that a peck of greens can be picked from a single plant once a week until frosts come.

Garden sorrel is a hardy perennial which bears edible leaves considered by many to be delicious. It should be sown in drills eighteen inches apart, preferably in light shade, as hot sun is said to increase its acidity. The roots should be divided every four years.

To continue the greens program into the late fall and winter, sow in June seeds of kale or borecole. Transplant to rows with two feet between plants. It takes 110 days to bring plants to maturity, but frost improves the flavor and the plants continue to bear long after other greens have been killed.

Stamp News

COINCIDENT with the International Labor conference at Philadelphia, which began April 20, comes word from Switzerland of a new series of overprints for this organization. A half-dozen of the new overprints appear on covers received in this country and, according to J. H. Stolow, copy of New York, the entire series includes 19 values. The overprint inscription is "Courrier du Bureau International du Travail," in contrast to the overprint previously used for this organization which was "S.d.N. Bureau International du Travail." The overprints appear on nine values of the 1934-42 landscape series, and on several of the 1941 series depicting Swiss heroes.

Stolow also report 21 new overprints for the League of Nations which read "Courrier de la Societe des Nations." Previous League overprints were inscribed simply "Societe des Nations." These special overprints validate the stamps for use only of the League of Nations and the International Labor bureau. The stamps are listed in Scott's Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue as official stamps and can be obtained in cancelled condition only.

WITH the Russians pushing their way into Poland, there soon may be no further use for the stamp, which was issued by Germany recently for use in German-occupied Poland. The caption for a photograph of the stamp, received in this country from neutral Portugal, says the stamp pictures the city of Lemberg.

POSTMASTER GENERAL Frank C. Walker's announcement of the stamp new U. S. stamps will be issued should meet with the approval of collectors who have been urging such issues. The Postmaster's announcement

Cars Crash On Tidioute Road Monday

Driving rain and poor visibility were credited by Pennsylvania State Police as partial cause of an accident which occurred about 6:20 p. m. Monday in Limestone township, four miles this side of Tidioute, in which two cars were considerably damaged.

A 1937 Chrysler sedan driven by Emmett Grubb, en route to his home in Tidioute, and a 1939 Chevrolet sedan driven by Joseph Marsalka, of New Kensington, side-swiped when both were believed by police officials to have been driving too near the center line. The Grubb machine, which had to be towed into Tidioute, had a left front fender smashed, knee action damaged and the frame twisted. The other car was damaged about the left front fender, head lamp and fog lamps but was in condition to be driven.

Ariel Campbell, passenger in the Grubb machine, received a laceration on her left knee and bruises about the left side.

Youngsville Man Knocked Down, Robbed

Jamestown, April 25—Joseph P. McGarry, 41, who told police he lived at Youngsville, Pa., and was employed at the Warren Tank Car Company at Warren, reported he was knocked down by a Negro and robbed of his wallet and $34 Sunday afternoon. The robbery took place in the pedestrian subway under the Erie Railroad tracks on Institute street about 4 o'clock.

In a signed statement to police, McGarry said he and Edward Daniel Reynolds, also of Warren, left a tavern on Harrison street in the company of the Negro, who was described as being 25 years old, six feet tall and of medium build. The trio walked east to Institute street and then north. McGarry said he was walking with the Negro and that Reynolds was several feet ahead of them. When they were in the subway, McGarry related, the Negro struck him on the side of the head and knocked him down. His assailant took his billfold from his pocket, fled east on the railroad tracks.

McGarry said he called for help and that Reynolds ran to him and then took up the chase of the Negro, who was last seen running along the tracks in the rear of the Swift & Company warehouse. McGarry said he and Reynolds returned to the tavern where they obtained the name and address of the Negro and then they walked to a nearby drug store where they called police.

A description of the Negro was radioed to all police cars and a city-wide search was begun. McGarry and Reynolds made a tour of the city with police officers in an effort to locate the Negro but no trace of him was found.

Rowley To Be Head Coach of Yank Pros

Boston, April 25—(P)—Lieut. Commander James H. Crowley, wherever in the South Pacific in braids of a U. S. Navy officer, probably aware today that he is newly appointed head coach of the brand new Boston Yankees of the National Professional Football League.

While the announcement of it, Commander Crowley's appointment was issued yesterday Arthur Sampson, publicity director, it is probably true that way is far more interested in naval tactics than he is in tackle slants and the Boston Yanks.

Jamestown Moose Win Final Match

Sunday the cribbage experts of the Warren Lodge of Moose journeyed to Jamestown where they took on the Past Masters of the art of Fifteen-Two of the Jamestown lodge. When the smoke had all cleared away and the firing had ceased and the mathematical sharks got their figures assembled they discovered the two teams had tied.

Finally it was decided to pick out two players from each team and let them do the pegging while the rest of the gang did the rooting. Jamestown evidently had the best cheer leaders as they won the match by one point.

So close was the finish that there may be another series arranged as the Warren boys claim they are getting better with each match and along toward mid summer may be able to win if they get a chance.

Jamestown proved an excellent host and a fine lunch was enjoyed by the visitors.

Speculation Over Who Will Succeed Ott

New York, April 25—(P)—Speculation over Mel Ott's successor as manager of the New York Giants centered on the inner circle of Horace Stoneham's organization today as the popular 35-year-old pilot rejoined his unbeaten club.

Ott passed his physical yesterday at Camden, N. J., and his call to army duty will come after May 15, possibly not until July 24.

Clarence "Bubba" Jonard, one of Ott's coaches and formerly a manager and scout in the Giants' farm system, headed a list of possible successors that included Manager Gabby Hartnett of the Jersey City farm, Coach Dolf Luque, Infielder Billy Jurges and Farm Supervisor Carl Hubbell.

During the spring training period when Ott's possible loss first was discussed, Owner Stoneham declared that a temporary successor would come from within his organization and Ott would have full say as to who it might be. It is fully understood that the job is Ott's when he is again available.

Total of 250,898 Fans Give Baseball Vote of Confidence in Opening Week of Season

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball moguls waded out to the ball parks today with some spare change jingling in their side pockets because 250,898 customers gave the national game a vote of confidence in the first week of the season.

It's still too early to draw any line on what to expect when the hot weather and night games come along, but there's enough business in the house to top the 1943 opening week turnout by 35,000 paid.

The fans have not broken down any gates in their haste to get into the parks and the attendance is only slightly better than an average peace-time haul for an opening day, but the future outlook is most promising.

Although figures are a little out of line because they include the opening day crowds, the attendance has been over 8,500 a game. Anything resembling this average throughout the season would surpass last year's total for both leagues of 7,714,638.

With a shift of scenery the unbeaten New York Giants and St. Louis Browns go back to work today. Mel Ott's men at Philadelphia and the Cardinals in Cincinnati. Brooklyn at Boston and Chicago at Pittsburgh complete the national calendar.

Those St. Louis Browns keep their win streak intact for at least another day as they are not scheduled, but Philadelphia invades New York. Boston goes to Washington and Detroit visits Chicago for the first time in a three-game American League chat.

Newsom Proclaims He And Athletics Can Win Pennant

Philadelphia, April 24—(P)—The eloquent Mr. Bobo Newsom proclaimed today that he and the Philadelphia Athletics can win the pennant this year just by believing they can win, and, having divulged the opinion, he hastened to say that he wasn't crazy.

The A's, who have a habit of finishing last rather than first, blacked out the Boston Red Sox 4-0 when Bobo pitched his first game in a Connie Mack uniform, and the victory apparently skyrocketed Newsom's hopes.

"You know what, Bo?" said Bobo, who calls everyone "Bo" including himself. "This club can win the pennant this year. Think I'm crazy? Never in baseball has there been a chance like this for a club to win just by believin' they can win and by hustlin' for each other."

The Mackmen, Newsom soliloquized before they entrained for today's New York game with the Yankees, are in practically the same position as the pennant-winning Detroit Tigers of 1940.

"You know what helps most in baseball?" he asked. "Believin' in yourself. Believin' you can win. Look what we did in '40. We didn't have a great ball club. We were just a gang of guys who believed we could win."

Connie Mack, who is known to think that it takes more than just believin' to win, didn't say much on the subject, but did comment that "we have a good ball this year—much better than last, livelier, but not as lively as some we've had."

The 1944 ball, he said, hasn't had a chance to show itself off to the fans because the weather has been wet.

Championship Series At Elks Coming Week

Two exciting matches were rolled off at the Elks alleys last evening with Struthers No. 1 winning over Turners by clinching the last game by seven pins. On the other alleys Kirbergers took the Texas Lunch outfit. The matches attracted a large crowd and plenty of excitement, due mainly to the noisemakers used by the Boilermakers.

The semi-finals will be rolled Thursday and Friday evening with Struthers No. 1 meeting Soda Mineral and Struthers No. 2 clashing with Kirbergers. The matches will be for the best out of five and will decide the teams to compete in the finals next Monday and Wednesday evening.

The bowling committee, which has been doing a bang-up job during the season is completing plans for the annual banquet which will be held Monday evening, May 8th.

Before the war, the United States imported 60 per cent of the world's output of cork.

Portugal is the most important source of cork.

"I'm sorry
I invented
the pocket!"

IF I had known that some Americans would be using pockets to hold all the extra money they're making these days, I never would have invented them.

POCKETS are good places to keep hands warm.
Pockets are good places to hold keys... and loose change for carfare and newspapers.

But pockets are no place for any kind of money except actual expense money these days.

The place—the only place—for money above living expenses is in War Bonds.

Bonds buy bullets for soldiers.

Bonds buy security for your old age.

Bonds buy education for your kids.

Bonds buy things you'll need later—that you can't buy now.

Bonds buy peace of mind—knowing that your money is in the fight.

Reach into the pocket I invented. Take out all that extra cash. Invest it in interest-bearing War Bonds.

You'll make me very happy if you do.

You'll be happy too.

Episcopalians Plan Prayers Invasion Day

Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, read the following telegram from Bishop E. P. Wroth of the Erie diocese, to the church school and congregation at the eleven o'clock service Sunday morning:

"Presiding bishop asks when news of invasion has been confirmed we are to open our churches and summon our people to unite in prayer for God's blessing upon our armed forces and upon all who minister to their needs and for early honorable, lasting peace."

The message was sent to all the rectors of Episcopal churches in the United States at the request of the Most Rev. Henry St.
 George Tucker, bishop of the United States.

In connection with the message
 Rev. Rutledge states that Trinity church has been and will continue to be open every day for prayer and meditation. Daily interces-sions are held each morning from nine until ten o'clock.

BIG QUOTA SET

Due to the fact that this and several other counties fell down badly in the January waste paper drive the amount they were short has been added to their May quota. Warren county's quota for May accordingly has been set at 323 tons which is 100 tons more than was gathered in the April drive. Really something to shoot at and every Warren county resident should start to get busy to meet this figure.

Ministers Plan for Sunday Night Services Next Summer

Appointment of several committees and resignation of the treasurer were principal items taken up at yesterday's business meeting of the Warren County Ministerial Association, held at the YMCA.

Pastors Wayne Furman, H. A. Rinard, Beecher Rutledge and Ernest Ruark were named as a committee to plan the Sunday evening services during the coming summer months. Chosen as a nominating committee to prepare a slate for the May meeting were Revs. Ivan E. Russell, Beecher Rutledge and R. H. Eggleston.

Rev. O. C. Mingleford, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, resigned the duties of treasurer of the association since he is taking up new duties in another church.

The association received an invitation from the Jamestown Ministerial Association for a panel discussion to be held in that city on Friday of this week between the Jamestown Manufacturing Association and church of Jamestown and vicinity.

Relatives Have Reunion In Italy

Mrs. Steve Wozneak has just received word from her brother, Cpl. John Rupczyk, and her brother-in-law, Pvt. Joseph Wozneak, that they had the pleasure of meeting somewhere in Italy on Easter Sunday.

Both were home on coincidental furloughs early in February. Cpl. Rupczyk from the paratrooper training center at Fort Benning, Ga., and Pvt. Wozneak from Camp Blanding, Fla., and discussed the possibility of their meeting overseas.

They have written that in addition to their own happy reunion, they have had the fun of meeting a number of other buddies from home, including Bill Loucks, Don Hoffman, Carter Rowland, George Templeton, Alvin Hedstrom and Bob Hedberg.

Asks Ukuleles Be Given For Army Hospital

The camp and hospital committee of the Warren County Red Cross has received a request for ukuleles to be used by patients at the U. S. Army Hospital, Deshon General, in Butler. Members of the local unit have asked the Times-Mirror to broadcast this appeal.

Since it is not possible to purchase ukuleles from stores, our only hope of filling this request lies in response from those who may have such instruments in their homes. Calls may be made to Red Cross headquarters, 2926, or to Mrs. T. L. Armstrong, 1266, chairman of this committee.

We feel sure that there are many unused string instruments in Warren and Warren county that could be put in perfect condition and sent to Deshon to help fill in the long hours and days of convalescence.

The committee will collect any such instruments and will have them put in condition for use, besides delivering them to Deshon at the earliest opportunity.

If you can, please call and leave your name and address or bring the instrument to Red Cross headquarters on Market street. Do it today, for it is important to these men.

Chapter 21

AS ADRIENNE entered the car with a sense of relief came to her the knowledge that she had given her notes concerning the list early that morning to Madame Dupont to be delivered to Pierre Dussault at the cafe. She wondered if Schafer who had evidently recovered from the effects of the drug, would receive her in person. Was it possible he had discovered she had examined the list?

The man who had "restored" her gave an order to the driver, and sat impassively beside her. Too engrossed with her thoughts and fears to realize in what direction she was being taken, she became suddenly aware that they had arrived at the entrance of a large building formerly the Hotel Matignon, at which Nazi guards were stationed. Her escort motioned for her to precede him in entering. They reached a room opening off the long corridor.

"You will wait here until you are summoned," he said curtly, and withdrew.

She heard the key turn in the lock. The window facing the street was barred. In that agonized moment of helplessness Johnny's face rose before her, his eyes filled with concern and tenderness as he had held her for the last time in his arms in the Church of St. Eustache, and warned her of the danger in the work she was doing.

AN ETERNITY seemed to pass as her thoughts engulfed her; then a key turned suddenly in the lock. A man entered who was evidently another member of the Gestapo force, equally as forbidding in manner as his predecessor.

"You will follow me," he commanded. He ushered her into a large comfortably appointed room in which at a desk facing the door sat a saturnine thin faced man with crafty eyes.

"Herr Stefan, this is Mlle. Girard." He bowed and withdrew.

Herr Stefan looked intently at Adrienne, appraising at a glance her attractiveness and charm. The expression in his eyes did not soften. He addressed Adrienne in French. "Mlle. Girard, you may sit down." He indicated a chair with a touch of condescension. "We have sent for you because it is necessary for us to gain some information which we believe is in your power to give us. I warn you it will be to your advantage to answer these questions frankly."

Now that the period of enforced inaction had passed and a battle of wits was imminent, Adrienne's previous fears left her temporarily and her spirit rose.

"I was under the impression there was little the Gestapo does not know, Herr Stefan."

He smiled at the adroitness of the implied compliment. "I am afraid you overrate our powers, Mademoiselle." He spoke suavely not once taking his eyes from her face. "To come to the point, we want information on the French underground movement."

Adrienne raised her eyebrows. "But why monsieur, should you imagine I would be able to give you any information?"

"Because we have reason to believe you are concerned with it," retorted Herr Stefan. "You will not deny, I suppose that you are acquainted with Raoul de Lamothé?"

THE question would have come with greater surprise to Adrienne had she not been aware that Raoul's name headed Herr Schafer's list of suspected persons. She said she was on dangerous ground.

"Yes, I am acquainted with him," she answered without hesitation. "He comes at times to have dinner at the Cafe de Dragon Rouge where I am employed."

"Are you aware that his man Lamothé is one of the organizers of this movement?"

"I know nothing about him, except that he comes sometimes to the Cafe."

"Nothing," repeated her questioner cynically. "That is strange considering you are reputed to be very friendly terms with him and have been seen with him at places of amusement."

"Surely Herr Stefan, because a girl seeks a little relaxation it doesn't follow she is always intimately acquainted with a chance acquaintance who invites her out."

"I see Mademoiselle that you are going to give us a little difficulty. Will you deny that this man is connected with the French underground movement?"

"I neither deny or affirm it since I do not know," she persisted.

"We will leave the question regarding M. de Lamothé for the moment. There is something else more important we should like to know. Can you tell us where these underground meetings are held?"

"No Monsieur."

"You mean that you will not?"

"I mean I know nothing about them," she retorted meeting his angry eyes with composure.

"May I suggest, Mademoiselle, there was a hard and biting emphasis in his voice, "that you would be wise to reconsider your attitude. We know you have brains and are not likely to remain in ignorance of what is taking place. I would like also to remind you we have methods of forcing you to speak."

"Your methods are not unknown to me Herr Stefan."

"Need I say if you tell us what we desire to know your liberty will be immediately restored to you," an urgent note had entered his voice.

SUDDENLY she decided to put a question uppermost in her thoughts. "Would I be permitted to see Herr Schafer?"

The questioner the interview the thought had kept flashing through her mind subconsciously that Stefan knew nothing of the happenings of the previous night—that Schafer for reasons of his own had kept silent. Did this mean the agent had a suspicion of having been outwitted? In that case, her detention was not a direct outcome of it. Yet she was not sure.

Stefan's reply was not reassuring. "No, that is not possible. He is indisposed today and ordered to rest by his physician. Once more, Mademoiselle, will you tell us what we want to know?"

"It is impossible, I cannot even if I would, I know nothing."

For a moment he regarded her steadily as if half convinced she spoke the truth.

"That is all for now," he said curtly, pressing a button on his desk. "You will have time to think it over Mademoiselle. I hope you will answer differently by tomorrow."

"Got your Post-war Car picked out yet?..."

"Sure, we're all short of help these days—and I may need a little more time, but you can depend on me to do these jobs carefully:"

Oil must be changed—old, worn-out oil drained and fresh, strong Esso Motor Oil in the summer grade correct for your car put in.

The chassis must be lubricated from stem to stern—at every point where wear might become serious. The older your car gets, the more it needs this lubrication.

The battery needs an examination, too. Maybe it should have a full charge for quick summer starts.

The radiator should be drained of old sediment, and fresh water put in. Couplings may need tightening, or replacing.

The tires must be checked for signs of wear or damage. Maybe switching 'em around can balance the wear, give you additional tire life now when you need it most!

The transmission and differential are important—let me look 'em over and make sure they have the proper lubrication.

"Mister, you're probably driving it right now... and if you don't think so, think this over..."

EVERYONE who ought to know agrees there just won't be new cars for everyone until quite a while after the war.

"That means the only car you're apt to have for a long time is the one you've got right now. So take care of it as you never have before!"

"I can help a lot—if you'll let me. I've got the equipment and the reliable Esso products that will really save wear. Just let me go over your car regularly—especially right now, between Winter and Summer.

"Look at the check list of things that need doing, and let's start getting them done.

"All these things won't cost much. They won't take long. But they're important for your transportation if they get done now.

"And I can't do it alone. You've got to bring the car in—let's start today—what say?"

Chapter 22

JEAN CORTOT, the concierge of the Bellevue Apartments on the Rue du Vaugirard, had settled himself at the entrance of the building with the morning paper. He was a wizened, elderly man with a crafty expression and straggling grey hair that only partially covered his baldness. Short of temper and overly curious as to affairs of tenants in the apartment house, he was regarded with dislike by its occupants who suspected him of Fascist tendencies.

On the forenoon it was his custom to read the paper and indulge in a brief nap if circumstances permitted. From this drowsy state he was suddenly aroused by the heavy measured footsteps of a man in Nazi uniform. Instantly Cortot was on his feet, alert and bowing toward the window of the office he recognized the man at once as the military chauffeur of the Nazi Kapitän who had recently called for Mlle. Girard.

The man motioned Cortot to come out and speak to him. The concierge noticed he carried a small package wrapped neatly in tissue paper. Peering at the powerfully built German through his spectacles he said suavely as he approached him, "Can I do anything for you, Monsieur?"

"This is for Mademoiselle Girard," the chauffeur thrust the package into Cortot's hands. "Kindly give it to her as soon as she returns this afternoon."

"Mon Dieu!" exclaimed the concierge. "I'm afraid that will not be possible. This I understand, is from Kapitän Von Egert?"

The Nazi bowed stiffly.

"Then he has evidently not been informed that Mlle. Girard was arrested this morning by the Gestapo just as she was leaving the house. I myself witnessed it. A tinge of self importance had come into the concierge's voice.

"ARRESTED!" exclaimed the chauffeur. "That is strange. The Herr Kapitän is unaware of it. There must be some mistake. Possibly Mademoiselle may not be detained long."

Cortot uttered a grunt that seemed to express both skepticism and a certain satisfaction.

"The Gestapo is not apt to make mistakes," he retorted. "But I will keep this for Mademoiselle in case she returns. If not I will return it to Kapitän Von Egert."

The chauffeur lost no time in returning to Von Egert in his office. Von Egert paused in dictating a letter.

"You delivered it safely?" he demanded.

"Yes, Herr Kapitän, but when you are disengaged, I have some information that may interest you."

"That will be all for now, Richter," Von Egert said curtly to his secretary.

Von Egert turned. "Now what is it?"

The chauffeur briefly narrated the facts supplied by Cortot. He had expected his master to be disturbed, but was hardly prepared for the fire of anger that came into Von Egert's eyes.

"So," muttered half beneath his breath, "I feared has come. That will do. You may go."

THE man clicked his heels, saluted and left the room. Von Egert clenched his hands and began to pace the room. He had felt from the first that Schafer had intended to trap Adrienne, and that any attention he had shown her had been planned with that in view. There must be some way he could stop Herr Heinrich Schafer.

Suddenly an idea came to him. He recalled a promise made by his chief, General von Richthofen, whose life he had saved when serving under him as aide-de-camp during the fighting in Belgium prior to the invasion of France. He remembered killing two Belgian soldiers who had made an attack on the General's life at Namur as he was leaving his car to enter the town hall.

In gratitude von Richthofen had promised him any favor he should ask that was within his power to grant.

Von Egert knew von Richthofen was on good terms with General von Stulpnagel, Commander of the German Army of Occupation in France, who had taken up his quarters at the Hotel Crillon, and that it might be possible for him to procure for Adrienne's release. Without delay he left his office and went to that of his superior.

After a short interval of waiting in the ante room, his name was announced and he was ushered by an aide-de-camp into the presence of the Kommandant.

"Good morning, Kapitän Von Egert," von Richthofen looked up from some papers on his desk in some surprise as Von Egert stood stiffly at attention and saluted.

"It's some time since I've seen you. What can I do for you?"

"Good morning, sir. I will be frank, Herr Kommandant. There is a favor I would like to ask of you."

"Then out with it, Herr Kapitän. I have not forgotten my promise."

"IT CONCERNS the freedom of a young woman in whom I am interested, Herr Kommandant. She is at present being held in custody most unjustly by the Gestapo."

"Ach, that is bad," returned von Richthofen. "What is this young woman, may I ask I take it she is French?"

Von Egert nodded. "Yes, Herr Kommandant. She is quite innocent of any offense, but has been unlucky enough to fall into the trap set for her by Herr Schafer."

"Ach, then she is acquainted with Herr Schafer? How, may I inquire?"

"Because he frequents the café where she is employed. But believe me, Herr Kommandant, she is no ordinary girl and is not only beautiful but well educated and cultured."

"I see this girl has made a serious impression on you, Herr Kapitän. You are young and inexperienced in regard to women and must safeguard yourself against the wiles of these French girls. However, if you give me her name and any information you have concerning her, I will see what can be done."

"Possibly if you spoke to General von Stulpnagel, sir, he might do something."

"That is a possibility I have not overlooked. Leave it to me, Herr Kapitän, and I will do my best, though I can promise you nothing. It will depend on what news I find from the General in. A suspicion of a twinkle came into von Richthofen's eyes.
